DEATH AT FAIRVIEW

Popular Druggist Succumbs After Long Illness.

Javine Ekiletian died in Fairview Monday night, after a long illness of stomach trouble, aged about thirty years. He spent several weeks in a Nashville hospital, but his condition grew worse and he was brought home. Mr. Ekiletian was a brother of Dr. D. H. Ekiletian, of Fairview, and was a pharmacist, employed in his brother's drug store. He was an Armenian and came here from Turkey a year or more ago. He had made many friends and his death is much regretted by every one who knew him. The remains were brought here and interred in Riverside Cemetery Tuesday.

PARALYTIC STROKE

Causee Death Of Prominent Todd Planter.

T. D. Webb, a prominent farmer of near Trenton, died as a result of a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Webb was 74 years old and a most excellent citizen. His wife and five children survive. He lived only one week after being stricken and never regained conscience. He was a member of the Christian church.

BANKS TRIAL

Will be Called at Special Term at Elkton.

A special term of circuit court will begin at Elkton tomorrow, called for the purpose of trying the murder case of Morris Banks for the killing of his aunt Mrs. Fennell Sebree last November, at Trenton.

Banks is a son of Strother Banks, a prominent citizen. While Mrs. Sebree was sitting in her buggy in front of the postoffice talking to two men, Banks stuck a shotgun between the two men and killed Mrs. Sebree instantly.

The plea will doubtless be insanity. It will be a hard fought case with strong counsel on both sides.

The Bardstown Route.

At Bardstown Saturday business men and farmers, representing eight Kentucky counties, formed the Central Lincoln Way Association, and plans were made for "Good Roads Week" some time in August, in the interest of the Bardstown route to the Lincoln farm.

THE ALLEGED DYNAMITERS

Will Not Ask for a Change
Of Venue in Their Trial.

ARRAIGNED THIS WEEK.

Both Sides are Lining up for A Great Legal Battle.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 3.—The defense in the McNamara cases will not seek a change of venue from Los Angeles, as was at first indicated. District Attorney Frederick said today that both sides were convinced of the fairness of sentiment in Los Angeles.

It is understood that upon the arrival of Clarence Darrow here an entire floor in the Huggins building will be leased, and that a special detective agency will have a conspicuous place there.

It has been definitely settled by the prosecutors that J. B. McNamara will be given trial first. His trial will be followed by O. E. McManigal's, and the case of J. J. McNamara will be tried last.

It is believed here that the National Erectors' association will provide a special prosecutor in the case.

The defense has opened extensive headquarters. Andrew L. Gallagher and B. B. Rosenthal, labor leaders of San Francisco, have come here to confer with the union men of Los Angeles regarding charges against the McNamaras.

Burns has prepared to ship the clocks and the explosives he claims to have found at McNamara's office in Indianapolis, to Los Angeles.

LOCKETT ANNOUNCES

As a Republican Candidate For Attorney General.

Judge John Francis Lockett, of Henderson, who was here Monday, has authorized his announcement as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Attorney-General.

At present he is first assistant to Attorney-General Breathitt, which term is now nearly at an end.

MRS. LATHAM'S CASE DISMISSED

Against City of Hopkinsville
In Federal Court At Owensboro.

VAN HOOSER CASE TRIED

Given to the Jury Yesterday
Morning and Verdict Awaiting.

In Federal court at Owensboro Tuesday, Judge Evans handed down a decision in the night rider case of Mrs. E'sie Latham against the city of Hopkinsville and over 100 other defendants sustaining the contention of the defendant, city of Hopkinsville, that the city and the alleged night riders could not properly be sued jointly, and forcing the plaintiff to elect which would be sued.

The plaintiff then elected to prosecute her case against the other defendants and the action against the city of Hopkinsville was dismissed. A demurrer was then filed to the petition, on the grounds that the facts set out in the petition are not sufficient to constitute a cause of action. The demurrer will be ruled on later.

This is a suit for $50,000 damages done by night riders for the destruction by fire of a tobacco factory belonging to the estate of the late John C. Latham, in Hopkinsville.

The city was represented by Downer & Russell and R. A. Miller and Mrs. Latham's attorneys are W. O. Bradley and John Stites. The other defendants are represented by Thos. P. Cook and John W. Kelly.

The case of J. F. Van Hooser against A. A. Robinson and others was tried for the second time.

The entire day Tuesday was consumed in the case, which was against twenty one alleged night riders, in which Van Hooser is suing for $30,000 for alleged damages while a resident of Christian county. The defendants went on the stand and said they were not members of any band of night riders, "Silent Brigade," or any other lawless organization. They swore they did not place a noose around the plaintiff's neck and make him, on bended knees, take the night riders' oath. One of the defendants was asked how he could remember what he did on a certain night two years ago.

"Because it was my birthday," replied the witness.

Then came the wives and daughters of the defendants and assisted in establishing complete alibis for them. The case was given to the jury yesterday morning.

Resolutions By Directors.

Resolved:—That in the death of our Secretary and Treasurer, C. L. Daniel, the milling industry and business interests of Hopkinsville have lost a most useful and earnest worker. The city and county a valued and reliable citizen. His family a devoted husband and father.

Resolved:—II. That his associates in the milling industry feel most keenly his loss, realizing that few men were so deeply interested in their work and so conscientious in their efforts to upbuild their chosen business and help their friends.

Resolved:—III. That we deeply sympathize with his bereaved family and many friends in this their severe loss, and order these resolutions spread on our records, a copy sent to his family, and published in the city papers.

OLLIE JAMES

He and Others Have Narrow Escape From Death.

Louisville, Ky., May 1.—Representative Ollie James of the First district of Kentucky, and other passengers who arrived here today on a Chesapeake & Ohio train from the east, had a narrow escape from death last night when their train jumped the track between Ashland and Lexington, Ky., then dumped across the steel cross-ties of a trestle over a swollen mountain stream and came to a stop on the opposite side. The engine's tender and all of the coaches, with the exception of the last Pullman, left the rails, but the momentum was sufficient to carry the train safely over the gorge.

Saved Many From Death.

W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years experience in the drug business. "What I always like to do," he writes, "is to recommend Dr. King's New Discovery for weak, sore lungs, hard colds, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, lagrippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well today because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe it's the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free, or regular 50c or $1.00. Guaranteed by all druggists.

HOGS KILLED BY HAIL Montgomery County Swept By Windstorm.

Clarksville, Tenn., May 1.—News received in this city to-day states one of the worst wind storms in the history of Montgomery county swept a large area in districts Three, Five, Six and Eleven, last Saturday afternoon. Many buildings were blown down and thousands of dollars' worth of damage done by heavy hail, which accompanied the wind.

Hail as large as hens' eggs fell, striking with sufficient force to kill animals and penetrate roofs on buildings.

A drove of about sixty hogs in a pasture on the farm of Joe Dunlop were killed. The hail undoubtedly fell from a great altitude, as was indicated by the depth it penetrated the earth.

A Father's Vengeance.

Would have fallen on any one who attacked the son of Peter Bondy, of South Rockford, Mich., but he was powerless before attacks of kidney trouble. "Doctors could not help him," he wrote, "so at last he gave him Electric Bitters and he improved wonderfully from taking six bottles. It's the best kidney medicine I ever saw." Backache, Tired feeling, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, warn of kidney trouble that may end in dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease. Beware: Take Electric Bitters and be safe. Every bottle guaranteed, 50c at all druggists.

TRANSFER ASKED.

Attorneys for Morris Damage Suit File New Petition.

Attorneys for the Tennessee Central Railroad have filed a petition asking that the $30,000 damage suit filed by J. D. Capps, administrator for Miss Fannie Morris, the Christian county girl who was burned to death in a wreck near Clarksville, Tenn., be transferred to the federal court at Owehsboro for trial. The petition recites that the railroad company is a Tennessee corporation and its principal office is in that state while the plaintiff and beneficiaries under the suit live in Kentucky, thus making the parties interested residents of different states. For this reason they ask that the hearing be before the federal court.

SCHOOL TEACHERS

In Fatal Wreck and Two Are Killed.

Two persons are dead, seven missing and at least fifty injured, some of them fatally, as the result of a wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad near Martin's Creek, N. J., Saturday. The train carried 169 school teachers bound from Utica and Syracuse, N. Y., to Washington, D. C. The wreckage caught fire and every car was burned almost instantly. Charred bodies were found in the ruins.

NOW THE AERIAL POSTCARD

Latest Novelty the Outcome of the Desire of Man to Conquer
the Air.

Have you seen the "aerial postcards?" They are the latest novelty in the line, and those who collect postcards are delighted at the idea that before long they will be able to add to their albums a "carte aeree," dropped from the clouds by one of their friends passing in an aeroplane. The new card bears a printed request that the person finding it on the ground will be so good as to take it to the nearest postoffice, whence it will be forwarded to its destination. A space is reserved for the mention of the altitude at which the message left sender's hands, and the situation, approximately, of the aeroplane at the time of sending. A photograph of the monoplane or biplane figures on the other side.

It is said that a request has been made to the minister of posts and telegraphs that a special stamp should be created for these aerial missives, but so far I have not heard that M. Millerand has undertaken to do so.—Paris Figaro.

HIS WAY OF THANKING HER

Col. T. W. Higginson Pays Young Woman Gracious Compliment on His Eighty-seventh Birthday.

Col. Thomas Wentworth Higginson, at the recent celebration in Boston of his eighty-seventh birthday, said:

"I find old age to be an enjoyable period of life."

That Colonel Higginson is happy in old age is witnessed by the kindly humor that illumines all his utterances.

Thus, on his birthday, a beautiful young lady, an admirer of his books, ventured to bring him a bouquet of roses. Colonel Higginson asked her name, and then he said:

"You live, I suppose, with your parents?"

"No, sir," the lady replied. "My parents are in heaven. I live with my husband."

"Your husband, too, is in heaven!" said Colonel Higginson, gallantly.

WELSH CAVE DWELLERS.

Cave dwellers still survive among us here and there and there is living at Llandudno an aged woman known colloquially as "Miriam's Ogo." She is ninety-three years of age and till quite lately lived in a cave on the side of the Great Orme. There she bore and brought up a family of 13 children, one of whom is a stalwart "bowman" of the Llandudno lifeboat.

Miriam's husband, also a cave man, made himself a pair of wings out of feathers for the purpose of getting up and down the face of the cliff, but his clever efforts in aviation led at last to a serious accident.—Cardiff Western Mail.

QUITE ENOUGH.

"Oh, sir, will you please come at once? There are three brutes jumping on a poor organ grinder."
"Is he a big organ grinder?" queried the old gentleman, calmly.
"No, no, sir; quite a little man. Oh, come at once, sir, or it will be too late!"
"I don't see why I should interfere," replied the old gentleman. "If he's a small man the three men don't need any help."—Tit-Bits.

WAYS OF FAME.

"Did you really say all the clever things attributed to you by the anecdote writers?"
"No," replied Senator Sorghum; "I didn't exactly say 'em. But I indorsed 'em."

THE LESSER EVIL.

"I always choose the lesser of two evils."
"Do you?"
"Yes. When I met my wife I was engaged to a much bigger girl."

HIS SIMPLE WAY.

Worth Weight in Gold.

Abingdon, Va.—Mrs. Jennie McCall, of this place, says, "I had been troubled with female complaints, for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been almost confined to the house, for a long time. I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardui is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardui has helped others. Why not you? Try it. Your druggist sells it, in $1.00 bottles.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

And it is the only medicine for woman's peculiar ailments, sold by druggists, the makers of which feel fully warranted in thus taking the afflicted into their full confidence

The more known about the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription the more confidently will invalid women rely upon it to cure their peculiar weaknesses and derangements. There's no secrecy about its make-up—no deceptive inducements held out to the afflicted. It's simply a good, honest, square-deal medicine with no alcohol, or injurious, habit-forming drugs in its composition. Made wholly from roots. It can do no harm in any condition of woman's organism.

Devised and put up by a physician of vast experience in the treatment of woman's maladies. Its ingredients have the indorsement of leading physicians in all schools of practice.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere as the standard remedy for diseases of women and has been so regarded for the past 40 years and more. Accept no secret nostrum in place of "Favorite Prescription"—a medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, with a record of 40 years of cures behind it.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines—sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Favorite Prescription." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a curative. To him its only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only on a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, 1008 pages cloth-bound.

HAPGOOD'S LESSON

By DON SEYMOUR

Bessie sat staring at the advertisements let into the panels above the car windows with eyes that were filled with tears. The quarrel had come, just as everyone said it would.

There were many things about Brace Hapgood that were very winning, but from the cradle he had been the pampered child of an indulgent mother, and had come to regard the whole world as being created for his especial comfort.

In the early days of the engagement he had deferred to Bess, but once the solitary argued authority he had gradually commenced the process of training that was to fit her for the position of his wife.

Meek, loving little Bess stood it as long as she could, but this afternoon, coming from the Templeton's tea, he had scolded her all the way down the street. As they were waiting for the car, she slipped off her ring.

"You had better take this," she said, in a choked little voice. "I don't think that I—I want to marry you, Brace. I don't want to be scolded for every little fault."

"I'm not scolding," he said, crossly, as he slipped the ring into his pocket. "I'm simply trying to show you the right way. There must be one head to a household. We can't both rule."

"I don't want to rule," she protested, "but I don't want to be ruled with a rod of iron."

"So you think I'm domineering," he said, sharply. "If I did not care for you I would not try to set you right."

"I don't want to be set right," she wailed. "I just want to be left in peace. Please go. I can get home very well alone."

"I am going to take you home," he said, decidedly. "This rowing in public is disgraceful, but I'm going to see that you get safely home."

He followed her aboard the car, but remained outside to smoke a ci-cies of her self-constituted champion.

It was after eight when a servant tapped on the door with his card. It bore a penciled note asking for a few moments and after a little hesitation she decided to see him.

She was shocked when she entered the parlor and Brace rose to greet her. One eye was blackened, his lip was split and there was a heavy bruise over one cheek bone. His smile was the mockery of mirth, but he grinned amiably and held out the ring.

"I know I don't deserve it," he said, humbly, "but will you take back the ring, dear? I think I've learned my lesson. It's a pity I did not have it years ago. It would have done me good."

"Was there a fight?" she cried in dismay. Brace shook his head with that mockery of a smile.

"There was no fight," he assured sadly. "Your—er—friend took me into a coal yard just below the corner of the street where we alighted and gave me one first-class thrashing for mashing."

"But you were not fighting," she exclaimed.

"Your friend was not the sort of chap who draws fine distinctions," he reminded. "In fact, I sought to explain that I was not a masher, but that we were engaged and there had been a row."

"And he was sorry then," she cried.

"No," assured Brace, "I was. You see he thrashed me all over again for being unkind to my sweet-heart."

"Why didn't you have him arrested?" she cried, indignantly. "It was an outrage."

"Quite the contrary," said Brace. "I thanked him. We parted good friends. It was on his advice that I came up here to ask for another chance. He gave me his address and told me to tell you that if I 'got gay' again to send for him. With the muscular Mr. Murphy hovering in the background, are you willing to give me another chance, Bess?"

"I—I think," she faltered, "that I should like to have Mr. Murphy come to the wedding," and she held up her finger to receive the ring again.

It was plain to be seen that Hapgood had had his lesson.

RURAL CARRIER'S MANY MILES.

Henry Crowwell, for more than six years a rural mail carrier of this city, has just replaced his old mail wagon with a new one. The old wagon probably holds the record in Kansas for service.

Mr. Crowwell makes 30 miles a day and has made 300 trips each year, giving the old vehicle a record of more than 60,000 miles in the six years and ten months it was in service, a distance more than twice around the globe. The wheels and tires on the wagon when it was thrown away were the same as purchased with the wagon when it was new.—Lincoln correspondence Topeka Capital.

HIS WARTIME CIGARS.

Joseph Martin, a farmer of the Leitchburg district, recently presented to his employee, Fred Hartman, a black cigar which he has had in his possession since July 4, 1863.

Hartman tasted the ancient brand and decided it was all right. Hartman's verdict satisfied Martin that he had made a good bargain when the cigar, together with another like it and $15 in cash came into his possession in return for a horse. The deal was made with a confederate soldier on the retreat from Gettysburg. Mr. Martin will keep the other cigar for another of his discriminating friends.—Philadelphia North American.

MAINE CENSUS NOTE.

One of the few double four generation families in Maine is the Groves-Gage family. The youngest member is Paul Holmes, one year old. He has two great-grandmothers, a grandfather and a grandmother on his mother's side. One of the great-grandmothers, Mrs. Naomi Groves, is eighty years old. The grandfather is George Alonzo Groves, a famous Maine guide. The second great-grandmother is Mrs. Clara Gage. The grandmother is Mrs. Eliza Groves, daughter of Mrs. Gage. The members of this family all live in Smithfield in one house. Their aggregate age is 281 years.—Portland (Me.) Press.

CURRENT COMMENT

CREAM OF NEWS COMPILED AND COLLECTED FROM ALL SOURCES

The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission awarded nine new silver medals and twenty six bronze medals and disbursed $35,000.

It was reported from Frankfort that the total assessments of Kentucky would aggregate approximately $850,000,000, an increase of $22,000,000 over last year.

A report received at San Diego, says that Captain Jack Mosby, son of General Mosby, Civil war veteran, and leader of the Insurgents in Lower California, was shot and fatally wounded while trying to hold up a stage near Triage.

Rebel activity outside of the armistice zone in Mexico continues unabated. Gen. Madero has received appeals from citizens of Monterey for an extension of the zone. Durango, the capital of the State of that name, is reported to have fallen into rebel hands and it was also reported that attacks were soon to be made upon Cuernavaca and Puebla, two other State capitals.

The suggestion of W.D. Haywood, who was tried for complicity in the murder of Gov. Steunenberg, of Idaho, that all labor unions go on a strike the day the McNamara's are put on trial, has met with no favor among the great body of laboring people who constitute good citizenship. Haywood only injures himself by such suggestions. Laboring men more than any others are vitally interested in arriving at the guilt or innocence of the accused men and if they are found guilty they should be repudiated and their punishment approved by every one who is not himself a criminal at heart.

Four New Elks.

At the meeting of the Elks Lodge, at the club rooms Tuesday night, four candidates were initiated, viz: Sheriff Low Johnson, Master Commissioner John B. Chilton, Harry P. Pool and E. L. Roberts.

It was voted to make the question of locating the new Home a special order for the meeting next Tuesday night, which will be held at the W. O. W. Hall.

A Tree From Each County.

A plan will be suggested to the state capitol commission by Hon. Frank P. James, state auditor, to set aside one day as "tree day," when each county in the state will be invited to come to Frankfort and plant a tree on the capitol grounds. The landscape architect in charge wanted an appropriation of $27,000 to plant trees on the grounds. This is not available; in fact, there is no more money that can be used on improvements around the capitol. Mr. James thinks it would be a saving to the state and also that the idea would appeal to the people of the state to have each county plant a tree to be known by the name of that county. This would give the capitol at least 119 trees and each county could plant more than one if desired. Schools or societies also would be invited.

WILLIAM ADDAMS.

FROM THE SHELBY SENTINEL.

FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1911.

Addams! Addams! So Say We All, Gentlemen!

Is there a Democrat but believes that if Senator McCreary gets the Gubernatorial nomination, the chances of his party success will be in doubt? Is it not the part of wisdom, therefore, for him to turn to some one who can bring the people to victory? William Addams, of Harrison county, is such a candidate. Place your banner in his hands and he will give you the hope and enthusiasm that must land us all winners. A few weeks since we were left floundering, feeling that there were none to make an active fight to oppose Senator McCreary for the nomination, but since the manly stand and clean-cut statements of Mr. Addams, our doubts are at last thrown aside and hope has taken the place of our doubts in our party success.

There be times when our darkest periods are just before the dawn, and Democracy in Kentucky appears to have passed through them. From now on every one should feel, with such a man as Addams to lead, that success must surely come.

Mr. Addams has a number of relatives and friends in "Old Shelby," and, though this county is in Mr. McCreary's district, yet it can be turned to the Harrison county man who can land the party triumphant in November.

Let us stop our party bickerings. Addams is a man we can unite upon, and let us all, therefore, get together and be for Addams.

Let the party slogan be, "Party success," and Mr. Addams will be selected. He is the man of the hour, the man you want, the man you need, the man you must have.

Addams! Addams! So say we all! Addams!

Hopkinsville Tobacco Market

This is the official report and quotations of the Hopkinsville tobacco market to May 1, 1911.

Receipts for the week,	292 Hhds.
Receipts for the year,	4,483 "
Sales for the week,	246 "
Sales for the year,	567 "

In addition to the above the following independent firms, the Imperial Tobacco Company, W. S. Mathews & Sons, American Snuff Company, Tandy & Fairleigh, R. C. West and W. W. Bradley have bought and handled leaf purchases at their respective plants to the amount of about 18,000,000 pounds. The above report does not include any association tobacco. The demand for hoghead tobacco is becoming more general and warehousemen and buyers expect a good market and active demand after May 1. The demand for tobacco on the loose floor continues strong at former prices, with light offerings.

Following are the market quotations on hoghead tobacco—Lugs: common, $6 to $7; medium, $7 to $7.50; good, $7.50 to $8.50.

Leaf: common, $8.50 to $10; medium, $10.50 to $11.50; good, $11.50 to $13; fine leaf and selections, $13.50 to $16.

B. G. NELSON
Secy. and Treas.

The record for the Black Patch for the year 1911 was easily broken by the Springfield salesmen of the Planters' Protective Association, Thursday and Friday when they disposed of 707 hogheads of tobacco at prices ranging from $5.50 to $15. This by far surpasses the sales made on any other market in two days. The sales were made up of 500 hogheads of leaf and 207 hogheads of lugs.—Springfield News.

Obituary.

Lied at the home of Mr. W. H. Boyd, near Newstead, Ky., April 23, Mrs. Julia Adams Carter, in her 76th year.

Mrs. Carter sustained a fall, fracturing her hip, and despite all that medical skill and prayers and tears of loved ones around her could do, the grim destroyer would not be stayed and she passed away after a week's illness.

She was a life long member of the Christian church and was truly a good Christian woman, always kind and considerate of those about her. Like the chief apostle, she regarded herself as a debtor to her children and grand children.

While we can with some degree of resignation accept the passing away of one whose course of life is spent, still it is so hard to be submissive. Especially so for the only child whose constant companion she was. Their love for each other was great as human love could be, and the chain that bound them seemed strong as could be made. Alas! tis broken and her broken bleeding heart can feel no balm, save that which comes from Heaven. Human words seem but a mockery, God and time alone can heal the wound. Nothing could be more beautiful than the love between this good woman and her son-in-law. She had implicit confidence in his wisdom and judgment and he in return was as loving, respectful and tender as an own son could be, never tiring of doing what he could to alleviate her suffering.

And now sorrowing ones, Ood pity you in this infirmary love and mercy in such sorrow, and come and abide with you forever. Then you will know it is his voice which says "I love you, pass under the rod."

NEGRO MAN WAS DROWNED

In All Probability Sunday
Afternoon In Pond River.

LEFT HERE THAT DAY

Was En Route To Sacramento, Ky., To Take a Horse.

A well-known colored stable hand named Neal Catlett was probably drowned in a swollen stream near Yonts' old store Sunday afternoon.

Catlett left the city at 10:30 Sunday morning to ride a horse sent by V. L. Gates to Sacramento, Ky. He was instructed to go to Greenville that night and make the rest of journey to McLean county Monday.

About 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon Mr. Gates received a telephone message that his horse had been found on a bridge over the West Fork of Pond River surrounded by high water, minus the rider.

The last seen of Catlett was when he asked a man in the neighborhood of the bridge if he could get across the stream. He was told that the water was very high, but he went ahead and attempted to ford the back water. Nobody knows just what followed, but up to yesterday afternoon Catlett had not been heard from nor had his body been found. It is regarded as certain that he was swept off the horse and drowned and that the animal swam across the water and reached the bridge. Search has been made every day, but the water is still so high that all efforts have been unsuccessful. Catlett was about 40 years old and leaves no family. He was employed from time to time in the livery stables of the city.

RESOLUTIONS

Of Respect On Charles L.
Daniel.

Hall, Green River Lodge No. 54, I. O. O. F.—Our brother united with Green River Lodge on the 18th day of November 1901. And since receiving the stroke that made him a member and Peer in our Chivalrous order, he has ever been true and loyal to its tenets and a worthy exemplar of its high and noble principles. And whereas, our dearly beloved brother Charles L. Daniel has been suddenly called by the ruler of the universe to his home on high, for the final test of his brave soul and chivalric spirit, therefore, be it Resolved, by Green River lodge,

ROYAL Baking Powder Economy

The manufacturers of Royal Baking Powder have always declined to produce a cheap baking powder at the sacrifice of quality.

Royal Baking Powder is made from pure grape cream of tartar, and is the embodiment of all the excellence possible to be attained in the highest class baking powder.

Royal Baking Powder costs only a fair price, and is more economical at its price than any other leavening agent, because of the superlative quality and absolute wholesomeness of the food it makes.

Mixtures made in imitation of baking powders, but containing alum, are frequently distributed from door to door, or given away in grocery stores. Such mixtures are dangerous to use in food. In England, France, Germany and some sections of the United States their sale is prohibited by law. Alum is a dangerous mineral acid, and all physicians condemn baking powders containing it.

The label of alum baking powders must show the ingredients.

READ THE LABEL

that in the death of our beloved brother C. L. Daniel, this lodge has sustained the loss of one of its truest and most faithful Odd Fellows and co-workers. One who by his example and precept sought to elevate our order and exemplify the true teaching of Friendship, Love and Truth, which form the cardinal principles of our fraternity. That in every condition of life in which he was placed he showed to the world that sincere and abiding faith, even as a little child, compatible with true and loyal manhood.

When in the fullness of time death comes and plucks "Ears that are hoary" taking to himself one whose morning of life has been succeeded by the noonday of existence, and this in turn has been yielded to comings eastward, sloping shadows and the fullness of age; in the death of such a one there is no shock to the feelings, but death falls even as the restful shadows of the night succeed the day of toil.

But how different it is when "The voice of the weeper wails manhood in glory."

When the sun of life is blotted out while yet in the youth, when the laborer is called before his task is half completed, while the bloom of existence is unfaded and the strength undiminished. Such was it with our brother C. L. Daniel, whose untimely and shockingly sudden death we now so deeply deplore.

In the flower of his manhood he is cut down, in the flush of his youth he is called from among us. Therefore be it resolved by Green River Lodge 54 that in the death of our brother, this Lodge has sustained the loss of one of its truest and most faithful members, one whose memory we will keep green in our hearts until we are united with him in the presence of our Ruler and King.

To the young wife who has sustained this irreparable loss in the sudden taking away of this faithful husband, and to the little boy, the idol of the home, in the loss of this devoted father, and to the other members of the family, our hearts go out in sympathy, which we find it impossible to express.

Resolved further, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of this lodge, on a page to be set aside to the dedication of these resolutions.

That same be printed in the city papers, and a copy be sent to the members of the family, and that our members wear the usual badge of mourning for 30 days.

Musings From Beverly.

April with its sunshine and shadows has come and gone once more. To one who has seen the passing of this fickle month for over three score years, it seems that its fitful humors were never more vividly contrasted than in that just past.

In keeping with the dark and bright in nature, have been events in the lives of those around us, even more startling to some in their agony of distress, to others in moments fraught with gladness, joy and pleasure.

While our hearts go out in deep sympathy to these, we can but rejoice that dear little children could catch some of the sunshine to brighten their lives for the present, and remain a happy remembrance through all their coming years.

The birthday gathering in honor of little Mildred and Jessie Nell Stegar, so generously and beautifully provided by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stegar, Jr., was the occasion of most hearty enjoyment. There was nothing left undone to contribute to the pleasure of the little folks.

The spacious house and grounds of their comfortable country home were thrown open, and equipped with everything that could afford them amusement and pleasure—swings on the galleries, games of every kind in the yard and what children like best to eat and drink, was bountifully provided. May both they and their kind parents "live long and be happy."

Ointments have been used longer than any other form of medicine. For hundreds and thousands of years they have relieved pain and healed injuries. In using an ointment it is not necessary to take anything into your system, the action is directly on the inflammation, sore or bruised spot, thus securing the best and quickest of all cures.

We make over twenty different ointments for different purposes. One of the most practical is used for burns, another for bruises and another for cuts. These three at least, Nyal's Eczema Ointment, Nyal's Carbo Witch Hazel Salve and Nyal's Arnica Salve, Anderson's Store Starts A Reforestory Movement!

On Friday afternoon May 5th, at 3:30 Anderson's Store will give to any school child, boy or girl, who will call at their store, a perfect CATALPA Tree. The only condition the Anderson Store makes to the gift is that each child will write his or her name and address on a piece of paper and hand it to them in exchange for the tree, and that the child will agree to plant the tree and attempt to maintain it for a term of two years.

The Catalpa Tree has been selected by the Government as the most successful tree with which to experiment in the reforestation of the country. The Chicago City Forester, J. H. Prost, writes that the Catalpa is best adapted to the purpose on account of its rapidity of growth and its antiseptic qualities.

THE TREE GETS ITS GROWTH IN FOUR YEARS

It is a tree that matures in 4 years. Groves of the trees grown in Indiana have reached an almost uniform height of 28 feet, crowned with a shade-giving "umbel" and bearing beautiful flowers for ornament and even bee pastures. The Catalpa possesses a unique antiseptic value. No tree germ can live on it. Its leaves produce follicles laden with antiseptic fluids, the effects of which are apparent even to the ground along the tree trunks. It will grow in all soils and according to City Forester Prost, demands professional manipulation.

ONE FOR EACH CHILD.

The Anderson Store aims to deliver to each child at least one of the Catalpa trees, and if there are any trees left over those children who apply first will get more than that number. Remember the conditions, every child irrespective of age, desiring a tree, will write his full name on a piece of paper and bring it to the Anderson Store Friday afternoon, May 5th, at 3:30 and he will be given a Catalpa tree free. He may plant it at any place he chooses, and the Anderson Store agrees to offer a prize of $5.00 for the child growing the largest tree in 12 months.

Again We Say

"AS GOOD AS WATERCRESS"

Ulster Orangemen's Sacrilegious Treatment of the Emblem Sacred to the Green Isle.

W. Bourke Cochran, at a dinner in Washington, ridiculed Ulster's threat to revolt in the event of home rule.

"Those Ulster fellows," said Mr. Cochran, "are always violent. A friend of mine, one St. Patrick's day, entered a bar to get a glass of ginger beer. He had a bunch of shamrock in his buttonhole and a couple of Ulster Orangemen at once engaged him in a home-rule argument.

"As my friend, coolly sipping his ginger beer, advanced one after another, a dozen irrefutable arguments in favor of home rule, the Ulster men grew wilder and wilder with rage.

"Finally one of them, quite beside himself, reached out his hand, plucked the shamrock from my friend's lapel, dipped it in the salt cruet on the bar, and, putting it in his mouth, remarked:

"It's as good as watercress."

REBUKE FOR SILLY WOMEN

Sharp Words of London Clergyman Well Deserved by a Few of the Fair Sex.

"If each woman in this city," said a London clergyman, quoted in the Week-End, "who cuddles and cares for a little lapdog would take one child and give it the same care and love, think how many little lives would be made happy." He went on to tell of a woman who had dogs as attendants at her wedding. Many women, he said, have maids to attend their pets. And plenty of these dog-crazed females call their dogs their babies and themselves the dog's mother. Dr. Reiser says he thinks there is no harm in human beings being fond of animals, but the harm lies in the whole affection being centered on the animal. We rise or sink, says this divine, to the level of our love. So the woman who adores dogs or cats is exactly on a level with these creatures.

WHY FINE MUSIC.

Every one considers folk songs to be of a fine kind of music. Even the greatest musicians, like Bach, Beethoven and Chopin, have greatly admired them because they are so simple and touching and sincere. Of course some are much more beautiful than others, yet all of them have qualities that make them last. Folk songs are the finest kind of music for boys and girls to sing, because they are so simple and yet good music. It is best to learn first the simplest forms and in that way to lay the foundation of sound musical taste.—St. Nicholas.

HE KNEW.

Seymour—Didn't Wuster know what a bad cook the widow was before he married her?

Ashley—Certainly he did; he wouldn't have married her if he hadn't; several physicians had told him he would die if he overate and he didn't want to have any temptation.

SOCIETY.

Woggs—So you don't enjoy these society dances?

Boggs—No. Half the time I'm on needles and pins for fear my ten-year-old dress suit has ripped and the other half I'm worried because my partner's gown has become unfastened and whether I ought to say anything about it or not.—Puck.

SUPERFLUOUS ADJUNCTS.

Mr. Chorte (trying on new suit at tailor's)—Why, Mr. Shearlams, you have no pockets in the suit!

Mr. Shearlams—Pockets? Of course not; I didn't think you needed any pockets; you always tell me you have no money.

TOO ANCIENT.

The Caller—Sir, I want you to know that I have discovered perpetual motion!

The Editor (unmoved)—Say, my friend, why don't you devote your energies to something new?

THE USUAL WAY.

Intimate—Do you think you'll get any money out of your gold mine?

Fowler—Yes, if I can only persuade some one to put money into it.

MUST BE PERFECTION

SALAD NEVER A DISH THAT CAN BE SLIGHTED.

Clear Judgment and Much Care for This Absolutely Indispensable Adjunct of the Modern Dinner Table.

Among the luxuries of our bills of fare there is not one that is more appreciated by everyone than a well-made salad; there is no department of cooking that demands clearer judgment in making and serving than this same salad; while all kinds, from the richest to the simplest, depend on the materials selected and their wise combination.

All salads should be served very cold and long standing injures them. Therefore make the dressing and place it near the ice in the cooler before preparing the salad proper. When ready to serve, chill the bowl and the individual salad plate if you would have your salad at its best.

Bread and butter sandwiches or Boston brown bread thinly sliced and delicately spread with fresh butter and filled with a shredded lettuce leaf sprinkled with ground nuts may be served with any salad. But with lobster, shrimp or fish salad, "brunettes" are the proper caper; they are made from the white bread and butter sandwiches filled with Neufchatel and minced cress. Mutton sandwiches are liked with vegetable salads. They are seasoned with herbs, as mint, pepper grass, celery, salt, curry and minced pickles.

For potato salad, prepare cheese straws, or spread graham bread with a mixture of snappy cheese and the hard boiled yolk of eggs and seasoning. The home-made cheese straws are far better than the made ones, that are sold in cartons, and will keep as well; they may be reheated just before using.

Miss Grauel's recipe for cheese straws: These are particularly nice, and, if cut evenly, look dainty. Grate three tablespoonfuls of dry, highly seasoned cheese, to it put one-half pint of sifted flour seasoned with salt and paprika; rub together with a tablespoon of butter and cold water as for pastry. Turn onto the floured baking board and roll out thin. Cut half the paste into straws and the rest into rings. Bake until yellow and crisp in a moderate oven and serve with the straws laid in the rings.

Rich and elaborate salads are served as a course by themselves, but when a salad is to accompany a meat course, it should be simple in character and served on individual salad plates. Very often the salad is placed on such plates and the dressing passed with it on a separate boat or bowl; this manner has much to commend it.

With duck, rich fish and water fowl, acid salads are served. These are made with a good allowance of lime, lemon juice or Tarragon vinegar. Cheese is passed with all green salads and black coffee and saltines go with all accompaniments.

Sweet drinks, as punch and fruit drinks, are never served with fruit or sweet salad.

STUFFED CABBAGE.

Choose a firm, solid white cabbage, remove the outer leaves, and with a very sharp knife remove entirely the heart. Put it into cold water and let it slowly come to the boiling point and scald ten minutes. Remove onto a kitchen platter, and when the first heat passes off place a green pepper stuffed with a little highly seasoned force meat, carefully raise some of the leaves, and put some of the force meat between them. Add a dash of pepper and salt and cover with a cheesecloth binder. Place it now in a stewpan with a bunch of sweet herbs, a clove, a pint of stock and water enough to cover it. When slowly boiled until very tender, but not all to pieces, drain carefully. Strain and thicken as much of the gravy as will be needed, pour over the cabbage and serve garnished with parsley and beet roses.

Wash Handkerchiefs.

Delicate handkerchiefs can be washed easily at home, and careful handling causes them to wear much longer than when they are laundered in a city laundry. Wet them, rub with good white soap and soak in tepid water over night. Squeeze out and place in a small enameled pan. Cover with cold water and half teaspoonful of powdered borax. Boil slowly, pour into a basin, add cold water and squeeze out all the soap. Immerse in clear, tepid water and rinse about in this. Then plunge into cold water tinged with blue. Leave for half an hour, squeeze and dip into a light stiffening. Squeeze and roll carefully each handkerchief in a towel. Then iron with a moderately hot iron.

A Novel Relish.

Guests at an informal luncheon were at first puzzled by a dainty looking relish brought on with the meat. Not until tasted was the secret revealed, when they discovered that the crisp, brown little tubes, about two inches in length, were of celery. Large, firm stalks were chosen, and after being cut were dipped in egg and cracker crumbs, fried in deep fat or sauteed in butter, and were served with a brown sauce. In the original instance this vegetable was served with fowl. It is also nice with fish, creamed in the chafin dish with oysters, etc.

SOME FACTS ABOUT WINTER

Season of Snowshoe and Treacherous Icy Sidewalk—Coldest and Longest Part of Year.

It is the coldest part of the year—also the longest.

It is the season of the snowshoe, the ski, and the skate—also the hot drink and the coal bill.

The treacherous icy sidewalk, veiled with a quarter inch of snow, now lurks on every corner for its unsuspecting victim.

A policeman rapping on the front door is a sure sign that the walks are about to be cleaned.

The first warm trolley car has been discovered in New York and is now on exhibition.

The snow-shovel will find the boundary line between two lots more accurately than the best surveyor.

The kind neighbor with a horse and snowplow stands nearest to heaven's gate.

The hardest thing to winter is the lee side of an ash barrel.

The furnace that runs like a top and behaves like a Sunday school maiden while you are in the basement watching it is always the one which is either too hot or too cold as soon as you begin reading in the library.

It has been noted on blizzardy mornings that the boss is always on hand in time to listen to the excuses of his belated staff.—Puck.

LARGELY PHONETIC.

The general manager had dictated a letter to the new stenographer—a most stately and straightforward blonde—and this same letter dealt largely with the "physical" condition of the line.

The general manager was marked up to play a foursome out at the country club that afternoon and the long-continued lull in the click-click of the machine was getting on his nerves.

So he sauntered over to the stately blonde's desk, where he found her poring earnestly over a pocket dictionary.

"Can I assist you, Miss Mayzie?" "Yes, sir, if you will be so kind. That word 'physical' I've been over the file's and the file's three times, and yet I can't seem to locate it."

IDOLATRY OF GREAT MASTERS.

In an interesting interview with Debussy, which appears in the Paris Excelsior, the famous composer expresses his views on the music of the great masters.

"I have been represented," he says, "in all sorts of attitudes which I have never taken up toward the great masters. I have been reported as saying things about Wagner, Beethoven, that I have never said. I admire Beethoven and Wagner, but I refuse to admire them in a block just because I am told that they were great masters! Never!

"In our time, to my way of thinking, people behave with most unpleasant servility toward the 'great masters.' I desire the freedom to say that a tiresome page wearies me whoever its author was! But I have no theories, no prejudice. I strive to be a sincere man in my art and my opinions—just that."

NOTED AMERICAN AUTHOR.

Brander Matthews is one of the best known of living American authors. He was born in New Orleans in 1852 and studied at Columbia college, where he graduated in 1871. He was admitted to the New York bar, but he turned to law from literature, to which, for many years, he has devoted an indefatigable and versatile pen. In 1891 he was appointed professor of dramatic literature in Columbia university.

UNFAIR.

"You opera singers get too high salaries."

"Then that is not our manager's fault, for he wants our services for a song."

HOW TO CARE FOR THE FEET

Nothing So Good as Alcohol Rub After Pedal Extremities Have Been Chilled.

No other part of the body except the waist suffers so much abuse and distortion as the feet. They are susceptible to all sorts of deformities and the subject of all sorts of neglect.

Many people do not bathe them sufficiently often, do not change their stockings with sufficient frequency and do not care for them in other ways as they should.

The soldier who cares for his feet is the one who holds out on the march, and many foreign armies have doctors who see that the men care for their feet. The dead skin which hardens and produces callous spots needs to be removed twice a day if the feet perspire freely.

To rub the feet with alcohol refreshes them wonderfully, and nothing is as good for them as a vigorous alcohol rub after they have been wet or chilled.

A rub with cocoa butter is a fine thing for the feet at all times. Get a cake of this and give them a five-minute rub at least once a week after the daily bath and you will save yourself many a groan.

We should wear rubbers whenever we need them and take them off as soon as we can. The feet must be kept warm and dry.

A famous physician is reported as saying that his income would dwindle to a half if women kept their feet warm. And it may be added that a woman's chance of being a comfortable soul and a jolly person to have around would be improved by three halves if she would wear the right kind of shoes, care for them and her feet properly and try to have everybody else do the same.—New York Mail.

Almond Tarts.

For tarts make shells of rich puff paste or get patties. Filling for one dozen tarts: Put three tablespoonfuls of almond paste in a double boiler with a little milk to dissolve; add half a pint of rich milk and lumps of butter. When it boils add the beaten yolks of two eggs mixed with three tablespoonfuls of sugar and two of flour; let boil till thick; when cool, add fifteen cents' worth of ground almonds and a few drops of almond extract; fill shells. Whip the whites of the two eggs stiff, add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, spread top and sides of tarts, sprinkle with powdered sugar and set in oven till a light brown.

Rice Prune Pudding.

To one cup of rice add one quart of water and boil slowly for about an hour, or until rice is nice and tender; add one-half teaspoonful of salt and one-half cup sugar, also the juice in which one pound of prunes has been previously stewed; from the pound of stewed prunes remove the pits (two silver forks do this nicely); dry half the pits, crack them and chop the meats; mix the prunes and meats with the rice. This is nice eaten either hot or cold with a little sugar and cream or milk.

Potato Croquettes.

Take sufficient mashed potatoes, salt and pepper to taste; and, if liked, a very little minced parsley, egg, and bread crumbs. Boil and mash the potatoes; add a seasoning of pepper and salt, and a little minced parsley may be added, or not. Roll the potatoes into small balls, cover them with egg and bread crumbs, and fry in hot oil or drippings until light brown; let them drain before the fire, dish them on a napkin, and serve.

Potato a la Lyonnaise.

Cut parboiled potatoes into dice. Chop an onion and fry it with a little minced parsley in good drippings or butter for one minute. Then put in the potatoes. Stir briskly until they have fried slowly for five minutes. They must never stick to the bottom nor brown. Sprinkle with pepper and salt, drain free of fat by shaking them in a heated colander and serve hot.

Fudge Frosting.

One and one-half tablespoons butter, one-half cup unsweetened cocoa, one-fourth cup confectionery sugar, a few grains of salt, one-fourth cup of milk, one-half teaspoon vanilla. Add cocoa, sugar, salt and milk, heat to boiling point; let boil for eight minutes; remove from fire and beat until creamy; add vanilla and pour over cake.

Dried Beef Gravy.

Take a 16-cent glass of dried beef and shred the beef into small pieces. Heat two cupfuls of milk in a spider and thicken it with two tablespoonfuls of flour. Then put the shredded beef into the thickened milk and serve with mashed potatoes. This makes an excellent dish for any meal of the day.

Care of Water Bottle.

When the water bottle becomes lined with a sediment from the water an easy way to remove it is by putting a teaspoon of hydrochloric acid, with a little water, in the bottle. The sediment will entirely disappear in a few moments, leaving the glass clear and clean.

To Prevent Cooking Odors.

Fill a tin cup with vinegar and place it on the back of the stove. This will prevent the spread of cooking odors throughout the house.

The Moguls are scheduled to play at Morganfield to-day and to-morrow. The Sun says: "The team from Hopkinsville has been making a tour of southern Illinois and Indiana and came back in Kentucky last week to play Owensboro. They have signed some ball players that have proved in these practice games that they are going to keep their team close to the top during the whole year. Hopkinsville is as good a baseball town as there is in Kentucky and the management has gathered together a team that will make Hopkinsville proud of its record."

Goldnamer is playing right field with Morganfield.

Frank Overton, backstop for Paducah last season, is playing with the Glenwood park team in Louisville. Gruesser, who was with Hopkinsville part of the season, is playing with the Butchertowns.

Dave Anderson, shortstop and manager of the Indians part of last season, is with Norfolk in the Virginia league. He is on the same team with George Block, who is developing rapidly into a star catcher. —Paducah Sun.

Mr. Gosnell says the teams are all in fine shape and the league will commence with as rosy a season as has ever graced Kitty League ball. Pat McAndrews, a former Kitten, and short stop of the Hopkinsville team, is in Cairo, seeking a berth on the Egyptian's team. His home is now in Indianapolis. —Vincennes Sun.

Manager Nairn will take his bunch out to-day for a mound covering two days at Morganfield and two at Henderson, Saturday and Sunday. The team has been practicing at the McLean athletic field this week, while the park has been torn up by the graders and carpenters.

A contract has been signed by a player from Terre Haute named Kyle, who last year batted .319 in 72 games and fielded 962. He played last season in an Indiana League. He is a big fellow, 5 feet 11 inches in height and 19 years old. —Clarks-ville Leaf Chronicle.

After Number Pieces Handled in Month.

Clerks in the local postoffice began Monday morning to count every piece of mail that goes through the office. This will be kept up through the month of May, and a tabulated report of the number of pieces of each class of mail will be made to Postmaster-General Hitchcock, by whose orders the counting is being done.

While it is not given out officially, it is supposed that this action is taken as a result of steps being taken at Washington to determine the cost of carrying the different classes of mails.

PEMBROKE R. R. 3.

Buford Johnson, Correspondent

Mr. F. W. Hampton returned home last Tuesday night after several days' visit with the family of T. H. Goens, near Kevil in Ballard county.

Mrs. Ed Wade happened to a very painful accident last Monday while putting down her carpet. She was down under the telephone putting it down and aimed to get up and in a hurry struck her nose on the transmitter of the telephone. She has been suffering a great deal since then and at this writing (Tuesday) she was suffering a great deal.

The prospects here are for a fine wheat crop if there is not a freeze to injure it.

The farmers will begin to fix to-bacco ground when the ground is dry enough.

The continued rains the past few days have thrown the farmers behind considerably with their work.

Will Probated.

The will of the late James H. Bradshaw was probated Monday afternoon. He bequeathed to his wife, Mrs. Nancy J. Bradshaw, all of his personal property and a life ownership in his farm. To Jas. H. Bradshaw, a nephew, he left 120 acres of the farm lying near the Chapel pike and to W. H. Koon he bequeathed the balance of the farm, a lot and some small articles. The farm was decided to the deceased by his former wife, is left for distribution among her heirs as she had desired. Harry Hives is named as executor. The will was dated Dec. 2, 1910.
